Acquisition of Murray Surgical

Asker Healthcare Group has acquired 100 per cent of the shares in Murray Surgical Limited (“Murray Surgical”), a leading distributor of specialist surgical and medical products to the healthcare sector in Ireland.

“Murray Surgical is a highly respected company with a strong presence across Ireland’s hospitals. Its product portfolio is a perfect complement to HSL Group’s existing surgical offering. Together, we can provide an even more comprehensive range of products and solutions to our customers, while creating attractive opportunities for cross-selling and further geographic expansion for Murray Surgical. We look forward to welcoming and supporting the Murray Surgical team within HSL Group and the wider Asker family,” says Johan Falk, CEO Asker Healthcare Group.

Murray Surgical, founded in 1978, provides products, solutions and services across all hospital departments, including orthopaedics, neuro/spine, plastic surgery, ENT, cardiothoracic, endoscopy and sterile services. The company has 9 employees and generated revenue of approximately SEK 73m in the past financial year.

The acquisition is a bolt-on acquisition to HSL Group and is expected to contribute positively to the group’s EBITA margin.
